DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendment, filed on 1/23/06, is acknowledged.
2. Claims 24-43 are pending and being acted upon presently.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

4. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- I. Claims 24-42, drawn to a method of treating inflammatory and/or autoimmune diseases comprising the administration of a composition comprising a soluble protein comprising a sequence having at least 85% of homology with the mature form of the extracellular domain of human CD164 (SEQ ID NO: 1).
- II. Claim 43, drawn to a method for identifying compounds as inhibitors of cytokine secretion and expression comprising: a) contacting cells with a composition comprising said compound b) contacting cells with a composition comprising a soluble protein comprising a sequence having at least 85% of homology with the mature form of the extracellular domain of human CD164 (SEQ ID NO: 1).

The inventions listed as Group I and II do not relate to a single inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature of the Group.

The specific technical feature of the Group I invention is the method of treating inflammatory and/or autoimmune with sCD164, while the specific technical feature of the Group II invention is the method for identifying compounds as inhibitors of cytokine secretion and expression with sCD164.

Since the special technical feature of the Group I invention is not present in the Groups II claims and the special technical feature of the Group II invention is not present in the Group I claims, unity of invention is lacking. Groups I and II are different methods. A method of treating and a method identifying differ with respect to ingredients, method steps, and endpoints; therefore, each method is patentably distinct.

Species Election

5. Irrespective of whichever group applicant may elect, applicant is further required under 35 US 121 (1) to elect a single disclosed species to which claims would be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable and (2) to list all claims readable thereon including those subsequently added.

If Group I is elected, applicant is required to elect a single specific inflammatory and/or autoimmune disease such as the one recited in claim 40. Further, Applicant is required to elect a single specific soluble protein such as a) SEQ ID NO: 1, b) SEQ ID NO: 6, c) SEQ ID NO: 4, or d) SEQ ID NO: 5. These disease species are distinct because the pathological conditions differ in etiologies and therapeutic endpoints; thus each condition represents patentably distinct subject matter. These soluble protein are distinct species because their structures, physiochemical properties and modes of action are different which, in turn, address different therapeutic endpoints.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

6. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election of the species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Maher Haddad whose telephone number is (571) 272-0845. The examiner can normally be reached Monday through Friday from 7:30 am to 4:00 pm. A message may be left on the examiner's voice mail service.
